

East Columbia Preschool Parent Waiver and Consent to Use of Student Images on the ECP Website

From time to time, we record digital images of students participating in the classroom and desire to post these on our website to provide information to the community about our programs and services.

Given the global nature of the Internet, East Columbia Preschool prohibits the posting of any student images or identifying information on our website without expressed written permission from the parent. It is our intent to protect student and family rights to privacy, and endeavor to publish student photos on our site only as a means of promoting the preschool.

No identifying information (name, class, year of enrollment, etc.) will be included with any child's picture.
